BIG FRENCH PROJECT.

ATLANTIC SQUADRON TO MAKE WORLD TOUR.

MARSEILLES, July 3.

Admiral Gilly, when he assumes command of the Atlantic flying squadron, will proceed on a nine months' cruise of the world visiting Port Said, Djibouti, Tamatavi, Reunion, Australia, New Zealand, New Caledonia, Japan, China, Indo-China, Singapore, Calcutta, Bombay, Alexandria and Suez. The Ministers of Foreign Affairs, Commerce, the Colonies and Public Works and the principal French Chamber of Commerce will be represented on both vessels as the mission will also be of a military, economic, commercial, colonial and industrial character.

THE DUBLIN BATTLES.

NATIONAL TROOPS SUCCEEDED.

LONDON, July 3.

In the Dublin battle yesterday national troops captured a number of rebel strongholds. There are now nearly four hundred irregulars taken prisoner. The rebels were driven out of eight positions. One of the most important successes was the capture of Moran's Hotel where thirty irregulars were taken prisoner. Three hundred pounds were found at the Hotel where the rebels had hoisted a white flag and surrendered. The casualties are not thought to be serious. The rebels' position in Moran's Hotel commanded important artery communications to Sackville Street. National troops invested practically the whole of this area all day long. A lengthy engagement preceded the surrender of the rebels which took place at 10.30 p.m. in the hotel which consisted principally of intense machine-gun firing.

SAVE SAINT PAUL'S.

AN APPEAL TO CHURCHMEN.

LONDON, July 3.

An appeal to churchmen throughout the world to contribute a £100,000 to preserve St. Paul's from the serious danger of decay is made in the Times by the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's.

They state that though the work of strengthening one arch upholding the great dome is nearing completion much remains to be done if the cathedral is to be prevented from falling into decay. The architects and engineers take such a serious view that it is feared that it would be necessary to close the cathedral to enable the work to be pushed on.

TWO WOMEN CLAIM BODY.

WIDOW WAIVES HER RIGHT TO BURY HUSBAND.

Two women at Hackney, E., recently claimed the body of Harry Samuel Shields, 64, undertaker's coachman, of Walthamstow, on whom an inquest was held.

It was stated that Shields had been separated from his wife, who gave an address at Islington. Since then for seven years he had lived with a Mrs. Pollett, who took his name and was regarded as his wife.

After Mrs. Pollett had given evidence Mrs. Shields said that she wanted her marriage certificate handed over.

Mrs. Pollett said the certificate was at her house, but she had only found it since the death of Shields.

Dr. Edwin Smith, the coroner, Mrs. Shields is entitled to it.

Mrs. Pollett: She is welcome to it. But I should like to take possession of the body for burial.

Dr. Smith: Here again the legal right rests with the one who was actually his wife.

Mrs. Pollett: The law would not allow me to marry, but we have lived and were regarded as man and wife for 7 years, and he was not only kind to me but was also a good father.

Dr. Smith: I quite believe you. You stick to each other loyally and do not wish that the world of you for that. As the same time I am afraid you have no legal claim to his body.

Mrs. Shields: As the law has been so good and in fact kind to me, I will give her the authority and possession of the body.

Mrs. Pollett: Thank you very much. Mr. Smith: You had better take the body.

The two women, who were both dressed in black, were seen to leave the mortuary.

THE GLOOMY DEAN.

APPEAL TO NOVELISTS.

VULGAR AND INDECENT FICTION.

Dean Inge makes an appeal in the Evening Standard to the novelists of the day.

"At the present time, when the country is suffering severely from the moral as well as from the material ravages of the war, it is surely the duty of all writers who have the ear of the public to use their influence on the side of purifying our social life," he says.

"There never was a time when there was a more urgent necessity to direct the minds of the public to all things that are true and noble and just and pure and lovely and of good report."

"We are threatened with an outbreak of licentiousness like that which followed the Civil War in the seventeenth century, and the Republic was a hundred years ago a pure and elevated land, in popular literature would do much to diminish the evil and bring it to an early end."

It was Dean Inge who said that every Englishman had reason to thank God for the poetry of Keats.

Will not our leading imaginative writers give their genius and privilege to the service of the nation, of the Empire, of the world?

Dr. Smith: I quite believe you. You stick to each other loyally and do not wish that the world of you for that. As the same time I am afraid you have no legal claim to his body.

Mrs. Pollett: The law would not allow me to marry, but we have lived and were regarded as man and wife for 7 years, and he was not only kind to me but was also a good father.

what a change has taken place in our lifetime! As an old woman I cannot read what was read aloud to me in the drawing-room as a girl. Our girls will very likely say the same when they are old.

"A corrupt following of Continental models, French and Russian, has introduced both vulgarity and indecency into the most modern English fiction," says the Dean.

"They have found their way in under the specious names of realism and problem-psychology. It has even been supposed that these studies of morbid conditions have a scientific value. But in the first place art and science are different things, and have different laws."

"To science nothing is common or unclean, because its object is the discovery of truth, and these are truths about disease as well as about health, which it is the business of the physician to know. But art is an interpretation of life in terms of the higher values. Description of moral disease may sometimes be necessary in fiction, which is a study of character in various phases, but this method is or should be very different from that of science."

"And in the second place art is a most unstable medium for the scientific study of mental pathology. A physician does not tell his book readers with reports of imaginary cases. The plea that literature is a medical textbook is for a novel will not bear examination."

Some of our well-known writers have written these novels of their art in the name of science, and have thus done much to lower the standard of our literature."

Dean Inge's appeal is a timely one, and it is to be hoped that the novelists of the day will respond to it.

THE DUBLIN WAR.

A MELANCHOLY SABBATH.

ENIERS BUSY.

LONDON, July 2.

Heavy rain and the absence of people and traffic and jamming cars from the streets conspired to render Dublin's Sunday most melancholy. Snipers were everywhere busy firing on armoured cars and ambulances. A big gun against the Irregulars is momentarily expected as the efforts of Lord Mayor O'Neill and Cardinal Byrne to avert the disastrous consequences of an attack in Sackville Street failed. Meantime there have been frequent bursts of machine-gun fire against the fortified area within which are DeValera, O'Shaughnessy, Oscar Traynor, reputedly head of the Dublin Brigade, Madam Marwick and about five hundred insurgents. The only notable incident last night was the National's capture of the Corporation workshops with its garrison after half an hour's engagement. The National forces report a few successes in the country where the Irregulars are leaving a trail of burning barracks and are reported to be consoling the countryfolk.

RAILWAY STRIKE.

MORE AMERICAN LABOUR TROUBLE.

NEW YORK, July 2.

It is estimated that 90 per cent. of 400,000 railway shopmen have responded to the order to strike, but the train service is still unaffected owing to the non-participation of the trainmen. The shopmen's postal union has been declared vacant and willing workers have been promised protection.

AVIATION.

MAJOR BLAKE AT CORFU.

ATHENS, July 2.

Major Blake, the aviator, has arrived at Corfu.

AMERICAN MINING DISPUTE.

GOVERNMENT ACTION FORESHADOWED.

WASHINGTON, July 2.

President Harding at the mining conferences, which have been divided into bituminous and anthracite sections, foreshadowed Government action if the disputants do not settle their differences.

THE BATTLE IN DUBLIN.

LONDON, June 30th.
It is officially stated from Dublin that fifty National troops were buried in the debris caused by the explosion at Four Courts, all of them were injured, thirty severely, but nobody was killed.
The leader of the Irregulars admitted that the explosion was deliberately intended to kill National troops, and expressed his disappointment that the casualties were not great.
The Irregulars surrendered unconditionally, after destroying all arms in the prisoners number 140, and the total number of prisoners in the two days fighting is 170, including many well-known leaders.
The casualties of the National troops number 3 killed and 10 wounded.
The Postmaster-General announced that the mail service to South and West Ireland is suspended.

LONDON, June 30th.
The newspapers generally are more cheerful regarding the prospects in Ireland, in view of the capture of the garrison at Four Courts, which it is stated, was entirely destroyed, along with the archives it contained; but as Mr. Churchill remarked in the House of Commons, "Better a state without archives, than archives without a state."
When referring to the participation of the Industrial Workers of the World in the Dublin fighting, Mr. Churchill correctly described them as "a Jackal Rabble." He said he was of the opinion that the Provisional Government will not have much difficulty in subduing them.
Two thousand Free State troops participated in the final assault on Four Courts, and it is stated that there were no fatalities to the Four Courts garrison. The Free State forces are now tackling the problem of clearing out the rebel nests in Dublin, and according to one report, the captured rebel leaders appealed to the Irregulars in other buildings to surrender. Three rebel outposts offered to surrender, but on the other hand the Irregulars remain in possession of a block of buildings in Sackville Street, including the Big O'Connell.

A meeting of the Provisional Parliament, which was summoned for to-day, has been postponed till July 15th.
Outside Dublin the Free State forces have had some important successes, crushing the Irregulars at Donnegal and Drogheda.

LONDON, July 1st.
An incomplete list of yesterday's casualties in Dublin states that 12 were killed and 100 wounded.
Fifty Irregulars near Four Courts surrendered this morning.
A proclamation issued by the Ministry of Defence, para tribute to the courage and forbearance of the national army in their first battle, and declared "with your aid we see the light in defence of the people brought to a successful issue."
The prorogation of the Irish Parliament till July 15th has been gazetted.

The Irregulars have established a stronghold in Sackville Street, where they have fortified a block of four houses including the fashionable Gresham and the intervening buildings with a frontage of two hundred yards. Visitors were cleared out and their luggage used for forming barricades. It is believed that de Valera is commanding the tunnelling beneath the buildings, the noise from the operations being heard all night.
The full in the morning was broken by a rifle attack on a National armoured car in Talbot Street by the Irregulars, who barricaded a side street. After this a mine exploded near the car, which escaped, and repelled with a most vigorous fusillade.

The National Chief of Staff has ordered that doctors be shot at sight.
The Provisional Government announces that Irregulars are attacking National positions at Listowel, Fenns Sheehy, Abbeyfeale, Newcastle West and Broadford.
There were three incendiary fires, due to bombs, in business premises at Belfast last night.
Liam Lynch, rebel Chief of Staff, has issued an army order at Malin, declaring that the plan of action be "carrying out will secure complete control of West and South Ireland for the Republic."

LONDON, July 1st.
It is now stated that the total casualties in Dublin up to the present, number 40 killed and 150 wounded, including soldiers and civilians.
Since the commencement of the battle nearly 200 Irregulars have been captured, which it is estimated comprises one-third of the Irregular forces in Dublin; but it is reported that reinforcements are arriving from the provinces.
The Irregulars have blocked the streets with commandeered vehicles, isolating an area of three-quarters of a mile in the centre of the city. To-day is comparatively quiet, but the telegraphic and telephone isolation of Dublin renders news from the provinces unreliable.
Free State troops suddenly appeared in motor-cars at the Railway Stations between Strabane and Londonderry, and surrounded the Irregulars who had been holding up trains and seizing the goods of traders, who have now been informed that the line is free, and the normal despatch of goods may be resumed.
Numerous Irregulars in the Carrigan district, consequent on the Free State troops operations, have deserted and gone to Londonderry, where there is a considerable influx.

National troops captured Finnan camp, the headquarters of the Donegal Irregulars, after a two hours fight in which two rebels were killed. Fifty-five prisoners were taken, including wholesale deserters, as the camp was recently occupied by hundreds of men.
The Irregulars at East Donegal retired to Inch Island in Lough Swilly, to which place they are conveying provisions, and are endeavouring to establish a base.
The Government has announced that the destruction of buildings and bridges and the commandeering of supplies and stores is prohibited under penalty of death, and that any person who is found guilty of these offences will be executed without trial.

LONDON, July 1st.
The Provisional Government has announced that it has received information that the National Army is preparing to attack the Four Courts, and that it is determined to defend the building to the last man.
The Provisional Government has also announced that it has received information that the National Army is preparing to attack the Four Courts, and that it is determined to defend the building to the last man.

THE BATTLE IN DUBLIN.

In the meanwhile, Mr. Collins, in an interview, declared that he would not rest until the people's authority was established.
There was a further surrender of Irregulars last night, the numbers are not known.
One British soldier was killed and three wounded, in an attack on a lorry by the Irregulars. One of the three wounded soldiers has since died and the other two are in a serious condition.
As regards the provinces, the heaviest fighting has been at Drogheda, where the rebels are holding Millmount Barracks. A large body of Free State troops has invested Inch Island in Lough Swilly, and intend to starve out the Irregulars. Several kidnapped loyalists are prisoners on the island.
The Republicans claim that the Free State troops at Listowel, Cottery and West Limerick have joined the rebels. The Irregulars have blown up a railway bridge at South Drogheda, stopping the lines from Dublin to Cork and from Kilkenny to Waterford, and are reported to be cut at intervals of every ten miles.
The fate of the three British officers kidnapped at Macroom on April 22nd is not beyond doubt, states the Ulster Association. It appears that the Irish Republican Army hanged them from a tree.

The weather was showery, and the day was mainly occupied with opening matches in the gentlemen's mixed round, but three of the fourth round matches were played, the chief of which saw the elimination of the British mainstay Kingscott, who, after a magnificent display, went down fighting hard, to Patterson, 6/4, 3/6, 5/7, 6/4, 6/0.
There is now every prospect of Anderson and Patterson contesting the final. The latter's present brilliance making him the favourite. Lyett beat Brugnon, 6/2, 1/6, 7/5, 6/5 and Martogordato beat Russell 6/1, 7/5, 6/0, these two winners now accompany Patterson into the fourth round.
In the third round Cochet beat Missu 3/6, 3/6, 6/5 and he is now the only Frenchman left. He meets Anderson in the fourth round.
Miss Ryan and Mrs. Peacock entered the fourth round and Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Lenglen made a surprising initial appearance in the mixed doubles.

BARCELONA, June 30th.
The Ghent Nautical Club's eight has been scratched for the Grand Challenge at Henley owing to an accident to their stroke.
A CHINA FOREIGN LOAN RUMOUR.
The Tse Chih Yen Chih Hui (a political organisation) yesterday issued a circular stating that General Yu Pei Fu had pledged four Government railways for a large foreign loan and that Mr. Tung Kang (the Finance Minister) and Dr. Wellington Koo had given their support to this loan. Kuo's Agency has been officially re-opened to state that the report is absolutely untrue. Both Dr. Wellington Koo and Mr. Tang Kang emphatically deny it.

PARIS, June 30th.
The Emperor of Annam attended a gala performance at the King Edward Theatre, in aid of the Indo-Chinese student's fund.
THE BANQUE INDUSTRIELLE.
PARIS, July 1st.
M. Barthou, Minister for Justice, has issued the following reply to the Official Gazette to M. Archambaud, Deputy for Drome, who asked him to publish the names of Members of Parliament who had drawn salaries from the Banque Industrielle de Chine: "The investigation rests with the Judge d'Instruction, who has not completed his task, which he is carrying out with entire independence. The Minister for Justice has to see that justice is equal for all, and does not flinch from any consequences, but he has neither the right nor the means to make any publication on the matter in question."
M. Archambaud, in view of this reply has now tabled a motion calling for the appointment of a commission of inquiry with judicial powers, to elucidate fully this politico-financial affair.

PARIS, July 1st.
In the Chamber of Deputies, the Minister of Finance announced that negotiations with the Consortium Bank have resulted in the adoption of a plan for the reorganisation of the Industrial Bank of China.
CHINESE IMMIGRANTS TO JAMAICA.
KINGSTON, June 30th.
The steamship companies have informed the Jamaica Government that they are determined to rigidly enforce the hierarchy of the case of Chinese immigrants, as the legislature is urging the imposition of a tax of 200c each.
The question is greatly extending the local community owing to the recent large influx of Chinese settlers.

MANILA, July 1st.
The Philippine Government has announced that it has received information that the National Army is preparing to attack the Four Courts, and that it is determined to defend the building to the last man.
The Philippine Government has also announced that it has received information that the National Army is preparing to attack the Four Courts, and that it is determined to defend the building to the last man.
